To Whom It May Concern:

The Education Undergraduate Society arranges and provides Professional Development workshops for education students at the University of Lethbridge. This letter is written at the request of KATHERINE ABELLA who attended the following seminars during the months of September, October and November of 2012:

“Creating a Digital Footprint” was presented on Tuesday September 25, 2012 by Kurtis Hewson, Associate Faculty Member at the University of Lethbridge. This session outlined advantages of using web 2.0 tools and social media to develop your PLN early in your teaching career to provide valuable support when first entering the teaching profession.

“How To Teach A Controversial Issue Without Becoming One” was presented on Wednesday September 26 by Lance Grigg, Faculty Member at the University of Lethbridge. This session gave pre-service teachers tips and tools for teaching controversial, multi perspective issues in the classroom.

“From Cake Decorating to Welding To Fishing - Teach What You Love!” presented on Wednesday October 24 by Lorraine Beaudin, Assistant Dean of Field Experiences at the University of Lethbridge. Lorraine discussed the range of endless possibilities available to teach when you teach Alberta Career and Technology Studies courses. She discussed how the CTS program works and gave some general ideas regarding the flexibility of the CTS program.
